

"The Way that we Lean"

by Rocky Alvey, Beth Nielsen Chapman, and Annie Roboff
Adapted by Anna Van Devender

(Chorus) It's all in the way that we're leaning my friend
It's all in the way that we lean
In winter and summer the fall and in spring
It's all in the way that we lean

v1: The changing of seasons affects all of life
The reasons aren't easily seen
It all has to do with the angle of light
Yes it's all in the way that we lean

"The Way that we Lean"

by Rocky Alvey, Beth Nielsen Chapman, and Annie Roboff
Adapted by Anna Van Devender

(Chorus) It's all in the way that we're leaning my friend
It's all in the way that we lean
In winter and summer the fall and in spring
It's all in the way that we lean

v1: The changing of seasons affects all of life
The reasons aren't easily seen
It all has to do with the angle of light
Yes it's all in the way that we lean

"The Way that we Lean"

by Rocky Alvey, Beth Nielsen Chapman, and Annie Roboff
Adapted by Anna Van Devender

(Chorus) It's all in the way that we're leaning my friend
It's all in the way that we lean
In winter and summer the fall and in spring
It's all in the way that we lean

v1: The changing of seasons affects all of life
The reasons aren't easily seen
It all has to do with the angle of light
Yes it's all in the way that we lean

"The Way that we Lean"

by Rocky Alvey, Beth Nielsen Chapman, and Annie Roboff
Adapted by Anna Van Devender

(Chorus) It's all in the way that we're leaning my friend
It's all in the way that we lean
In winter and summer the fall and in spring
It's all in the way that we lean

v1: The changing of seasons affects all of life
The reasons aren't easily seen
It all has to do with the angle of light
Yes it's all in the way that we lean

"The Way that we Lean," cont.

v2: Our mothership Earth keeps us spinning around Creating each new day we see
The axis of spin isn't straight up and down
It tilts twenty three some degrees

v3: In summer Earth's farther away from the Sun
In winter it's closer they say
So distance just isn't why you freeze your buns
Your hemisphere's tilting away

"The Way that we Lean," cont.

v2: Our mothership Earth keeps us spinning around
Creating each new day we see
The axis of spin isn't straight up and down
It tilts twenty three some degrees

v3: In summer Earth's farther away from the Sun
In winter it's closer they say
So distance just isn't why you freeze your buns
Your hemisphere's tilting away

"The Way that we Lean," cont.

v2: Our mothership Earth keeps us spinning around
Creating each new day we see
The axis of spin isn't straight up and down
It tilts twenty three some degrees

v3: In summer Earth's farther away from the Sun
In winter it's closer they say
So distance just isn't why you freeze your buns
Your hemisphere's tilting away

"The Way that we Lean," cont.

v2: Our mothership Earth keeps us spinning around
Creating each new day we see
The axis of spin isn't straight up and down
It tilts twenty three some degrees

v3: In summer Earth's farther away from the Sun
In winter it's closer they say
So distance just isn't why you freeze your buns
Your hemisphere's tilting away

